H.S. SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN LAST NIGHT

DR. G. S. COX GIVES COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS AT HIGH SCHOOL.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN FORTY

Ruth Bookman, Margaret Remus and Chilton Ribinson Win Three Scholarships Offered.

Miss Ruth Bookman, Miss Margaret Remus and Chilton Robinson won the class honors of the high school graduating class and the scholarships offered the school. Miss Bookman as valedictorian won the Central College scholarship. Miss Remus salutatorian was awarded the State Teachers College scholarship and Chilton Robinson the Westminster College scholarship, making the highest average grades of any boy in the senior class.

The closing exercises were held last night at the high school auditorium with the class address made by Dr. Gilbert S. Cox of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Cox spoke upon the subject "Plymouth Rock, the Corner Stone of the Nation." In handling the subject Dr. Cox said, "the class which came over to America in 1620 numbered few more than a hundred and nearly half of them were lost the first year. This 1920 class of nearly as many as that small body, could do nothing better than embody in their lives the spirit of 1620." Dr. Cox cited the four figures on monument to our forefathers at Plymouth Rock, that of Education, law, liberty and morality as the four corner stones on which the nation is built. He enlarged on this thought by calling attention to the students of the great principles obtained through public educational institutions, respecting and obeying the laws, by the spirit which would fight or even die for liberty of conscience, home, country or religion and by embodying in our nation the puritanical respect for God and the ten commandments, which has made the republic it now was; and that only through these young people starting out into the world and sustaining such principles would it continue as such.

Following the address, the class of forty students was presented to the board by L. E. Zeigler, principal of the High School and the diplomas were awarded by M. E. Ford. Superintendent McDonald presented the scholarships.

RAILROADS MAKE EFFORT TO CLEAR TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Inter-State Commerce Commission Makes Drastic Move to Lift Rail Tie-ups Over Country.

Washington, May 22. — Legal bars were lifted on all railroads yesterday to break the traffic congestion up as a result of appeals from municipal officials throughout the country. Rules will remain operative as long as crisis makes it necessary. The commission order specifically directs all traffic be forwarded to its destination by the most expeditious route available.

RALPH YEHLE MAKES STATE RECORD AT ATHLETIC MEET

The meet was held under the auspices of Missouri Wesleyan College and a great number of college athletes were entered.

Ralph was entered in the hurdles but on account of a slight accident was unable. As he stepped from the train at St. Joseph he stumbled and slightly sprained his ankle, causing him considerable pain. Young Yehle, accompanied by Coach Rice of the College, went to Cameron Thursday afternoon.

W. E. SPRATT WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

The Statement Spratt Says He Can't Spare the Time From His Personal Affairs Now.

William E. Spratt of St. Joseph, will not make the race for congress this time.

In a statement issued yesterday Mr. Spratt says his affairs in St. Joseph will demand his undivided time and attention during the next two years. He made the race in 1918.

Fourth district Democrats have been awaiting this announcement for some time. The question repeatedly asked was: "What will Spratt do?" Now that the answer is known, the slate is recognized in party circles as practically made up, and it is believed there will be no further entries. In the primary race Judge W. K. James of Andrew county and Lewis C. Gabbert and Robert I. Young of Buchanan will contend for the Democratic nomination.

On the Republican side, the entrants thus far are Allen May, a young attorney of St. Joseph, and John LeGrand Baker, an optometrist of Maryville. There is talk, however, of changes, and rumor has it that May will withdraw, and that Charles L. Faust, former city counselor of St. Joseph will get into the running.

RAIL CENTERS NAMING AID FOR CONGESTION COMMITTEES

All Principal Railroad Centers are Taking Cooperative Measures to Relieve Traffic Jams.

Washington, May 22.—The naming of a traffic committee consisting of railroad officials and shippers representatives is under way in all principal railroad centers today as cooperative measure to aid in clearing up the rail congestion. All service committees are being appointed in response to telegrams from interstate commerce commission appealing for unity of action by operating officers and shipping public. Although still badly handicapped by labor shortage in a score of centers, some slight improvement was noted today in reports to commission, showing traffic jams being penetrated and idle equipment extracted for movement to point where most needed. There was an encouraging reduction in the number of idle cars in all yards.

PRESIDENT TO ARBITRATE IN ARMENIAN CONTROVERSY

Paris, May 22.—President Wilson has consented to arbitrate the Armenian frontier question, Hugh Wallace, American Ambassador to France informed Council of Ambassadors today.

While President Wilson agreed to arbitrate in the frontiers of Armenia this action does not in itself mean that he will recommend to Congress that the United States accept the mandate over Armenia, it was learned officially today. No statement is forthcoming from the State Department on the President's agreement to arbitrate the Armenian boundary.

"MILLIONAIRE SLACKER" ESCAPES ARMY GUARDS.

Philadelphia, May 22.—No trace has been found early today of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious "millionaire slacker" who escaped from two regular army guards while visiting wealthy mother here. A widespread net has been thrown out by federal and local officers. Many points have been notified to look out for Bergdoll's racing car in which he escaped. Bergdoll was undergoing a sentence of five years in military prison at Governor's Island for desertion and evasion of draft.

FRISCO MINT MAKING FIRST GOLD COINS SINCE 1916

San Francisco, May 22.—"The days of old, the days of gold" are to return.

For the first time since 1916 the mint here is again turning out gold coins. Eagles and double eagles are being coined, but no $5 gold pieces.

Dear to the hearts of all Californians and all Westerners the gold coins once so familiar before the invasion of paper money will again be obtainable, although it is expected the number to be turned out at the local mint will scarcely meet the demands.

CORKSCREW KNIVES A THING OF THE PAST.

Columbus, May 22. Some blame it on prohibition.

Others attribute it to some other cause.

Nevertheless the fact remains that knives containing a corkscrew are becoming a rarity.

Local hardware dealers do not regard the corkscrew knife as necessary as part of their stock in trade.

One High street hardware dealer frankly admitted he didn't have one corkscrew knife in his store and that no customer had asked for one for over a year.

FUGITIVE MEXICAN PRESIDENT KILLED

CARRANZA AND FOLLOWERS ARE KILLED BY HERRERA FORCE.

ELECTION IS POSTPONED

Congress Has Held off Selection of Provisional Head Until Monday —Indicate Huerta Choice.

Washington, May 22. — The State Department without confirmation reported the killing of Carranza. Dispatches to the department from Mexico stated that the press there on May 21, reported Carranza to still be in the mountains in the state of Pueblo.

Mexico City, May 22.—Venustanio Carranza, fugitive president of Mexico, and six of his followers have been killed in a skirmish with revolutionary troops under General Serrera near Tlaxcoapan in the southern part of the State of Pueblo, according to officially confirmed advices to General Obregon today. The revolutionary administration is advised that Carranza's body is being brought to this city, while reports on the skirmish differed as to details. All agreed that Carranza had been killed. According to one report all persons of his immediate party were put to death. Herrera, formerly leader of rebel faction known as Pellicistas surrendered to government several months ago. Several columns of Obregonista troops now reported to be pursuing these forces reports to Obregon's headquarters indicated that Herrera attacked Carranzaistas to obtain money they carried. Not from political motives, as Luis Cabrera, former minister of the interior, and Ignaciobonillas, former ambassador to the United States, known to have been with Carranza, believed to have both been killed by Herrera's band. One message said that Carranza had been killed at eleven Thursday morning, indicating that his forces were taken by surprise in the night. Another message said the fight took place Friday.

Washington, May 22.—The report that Adolfo Dela Huerta, governor of the State of Sonora, had been appointed provisional president of Mexico, is not credited in official circles today. According to advices direct from Mexico City the Mexican congress decided to postpone election of a provisional president until Monday. The indications were, however, that Huerta would be chosen.

AUTHORIZES INCREASED PAY FOR THE ARMY AND NAVY.

The President has signed the bill providing for increased pay for the officers and enlisted personnel of the army, navy and marine corps. This bill provides for an increase in pay for officers of from $240 to $840 per annum.

The new monthly rates of pay for enlisted personnel in the navy has been fixed as follows: Chief Petty Officers permanent $126; acting $99; Petty Officers first class, $84; second class $72; third class $60; nonrated men first class $54; second class $48; third class $33; Firemen, first class $60. In addition to the above base pay enlisted men will be entitled to additional pay for service and permanent additions. The bill provides for a flat increase of 20 per cent for the army and marine corps.

The bill provides for the transportation of families of officers and enlisted men ordered to make a permanent change of station and also provides for the payment of reenlistment money to any man who reenlists within one year from date of honorable discharge and within six months after the passage of this bill, this gratuity to be paid at the rate of one months pay at date of discharge for each year that the man reenlists for. This last provision is a very important one inasmuch as many men who have been out of the service less than one year, but more than four months can now return and receive a bonus of four months pay for reenlisting for a period of four years.

Reservists on inactive duty can transfer to the regular navy to complete the unexpired portion of their enrollment and receive four months pay of their confirmed rating at date of release for so doing and in addition will receive the increase of pay for a man reenlisting and will be granted thirty days leave of absence.

The navy recruiting officer at St Louis will furnish transportation gratis to any exservice men in this locality or in the state of Missouri who desires to go to St. Louis for the purpose of returning to the regular navy if they will make application for it.

FRIEND STEVEDORE.

I'm a sweatin' army stevedore, I gets a soldier's pay.
I joined up for a soldier once—I'll not forget the day—
I gets a gat all proper an' comes pikin' overseas
Prepared to meet this Jerry gent an' bring him to his knees.
Two long, sad years I've been here a-jugglin' army freight
From Somewhere West of Old New York an' East of Golden Gate—
I've got a World War ribbon—gold stripes a full quartet—
The army's come an' gone again—I'm steve-a-dorin' yet.

I've worked alongside Jerry, an' old Frenchy's helped me through
An' heathen Chinks what never blinks, an' bucks from Timbuctoo;
An' Greeks from Asia Minor, an' some Spaniards, Poles an' Wops,
An' Tommies fresh from London town, an' ex-Calgary cops.
For it's "An' avant that box car," an' a "Halte, la! Git! Allay!"

"Manana fini arbeit," "Manana?" "Nichts compree!"

I'm a sweatin' army stevedore, I gets a soldier's pay,
But I parleys all the lingoes what they bahlas here today.
It's all-same-meme-chose what they shoots, I gets 'em on the spot;
The Hellnie choppin' hard and cold, the Wop what's soft an' hot;
The Chinese pidgin sing-song, an' the Alabama drawl,
The bloomin' Cockney chatter an' the patois of the Gaul.

ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN

Theatrical Critic May Have Meant Well by His Advice, but Some Will Doubt It.

The stage manager was often at his wits' end to know what to do with an amateur dramatic critic who regularly attended the theater and kept up a running conversation in a loud voice about the merits or demerits of the plays he saw.

The piece was a thrilling melodrama of the old school when the critic happened to be there one night. The hero—an understudy—was slender and short; the lovely heroine tall and stout.

"Marry that man!" shouted the villain to the princess, and pointing to the hero, "and I'll ruin you both!"

The heroine then screams and falls into the arms of the hero, who is expected to carry her out. But on this occasion the slender hero, doubting his fitness for the task before him, hesitated.

"All right, mister," yelled the critic, "Just take what you can, and come back for the rest!"

Intoxicated Cows.

Some cows actually disgraced their home and reputation by going home the other night just like a pack of old boozers. The truth of this statement is affirmed by a farmer in England, and is related in one of the leading London dailies. One day the farmer's cows broke into an orchard where large heaps of fermenting cider apples lay upon the ground awaiting removal. Evidently the cows were fascinated and ate considerable quantities. The result was that when the farmer sent his boy to bring the cows home for milking they were all prostrate on the ground. After an effort they struggled to their feet, tottered across the orchard, only to fall in the ditch like intoxicated human beings. For a couple of days they remained quite helpless, and no milk was forthcoming. Later, however, they completely recovered.

Origin of Navel Orange.

The navel orange originated in Brazil and was introduced into the United States in 1870 by William Saunders of the United States department of agriculture at Washington. It was distributed by him to the orange growing section of this country and was often spoken of as the "Washington navel orange." Its peculiar formation, which gives the fruit its name, is due to the development of a secondary axis, with more or less cells, in the center of the fruit; the fact that it is practically seedless, combined with its sprightly flavor, has made this variety of orange popular, and it is largely grown in southern California and increasingly in Florida. The trees are propagated by cutting and by budding or grafting other stocks.

SHE HAD FORGOTTEN.

"Mother, wasn't that a funny dream I had last night?" said a little boy who was busily engaged with his breakfast cereal.

"Why, I'm sure I don't know!" replied his mother. "I haven't the slightest idea what your dream was about."

"Why, mother, of course you know!" said the boy reproachfully. "You were in it."—Youth's Companion.

Moment of Embarrassment.

"Some men are so strong that they always have their own way."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum; "but a man who always has his own way is liable to be a little disappointed when he stops once in awhile and looks around and listens for the applause."

CITY HAS NO RUNNING WATER

Vladivostok, Political Capital of the Far East, Lacks What Americans Consider Essential.

A city with some 350,000 inhabitants and no running water—such is Vladivostok, as described by Phil Norton in the columns of Travel. Nor is this lack of an everyday convenience made less pressing by the fact that Vladivostok jumped from a population of about 90,000 people without adding to the number of houses. The Manchu water vender, with his hogshead mounted on two wheels and drawn by sturdy, thick-coated Siberian horses, takes the place of pipes and faucets, filling his hogshead at a shallow well in some private or public yard, and retailing the commodity at the rate of two buckets a day for a month, for about $2 in American money. He carries the buckets at the end of a pole over his shoulder. If one can manage to live in reasonable comfort in Vladivostok, a coolie boy can be procured to bring water to one's room, and heat it in the kitchen. Or again, if the water vender has failed to arrive, the coolie boy will gather snow and melt it, and there is one's morning bath. If one wants more generous ablution one goes to the public baths; and if one wants a drink of water one thoroughly boils the merchandise of the water vender before drinking it. And this city of the primitive water supply is now the political capital of the far east.

WILLING TO SWIM ACROSS

Ocean Couldn't Be Damper Than Alsace, Was the Assertion Made by Negro Yank.

We wanted to watch the negro troops defile, according to Edith O'Shaughnessy in "Alsace in Rust and Gold." They appeared very smartly dressed till the eye got to their feet. Such a collection of ripped, torn, cut down-at-the-heel footwear was never seen before. I spoke to a couple of them very much en repos, who were leaning against a fence near the motor, as I got in.

One answered with a broad grin: "You an American from America?"

"Yes."

"Well, have you heard this here war's about oveh?"

The coalest-black one then contributed this to the conservation:

"When peace is signed dis here nigger stahts to walk home."

"What about the ocean?"

"I'll take a swim, lady. The water can't be no colder and no dampeh dan dis here 'Alice' land.

The mulatto by his side said: "I subscribes," and became a pale gray at the bare idea of getting colder or damper.

Venice Art Being Restored.

Now that the war is over and Venice has recovered from the nightmare of having her wealth of art destroyed by shell fire, or, worse still, looted by soldiers, one by one her treasures from underground cellars or distant galleries are being returned to their places.

One of her most admired possessions, however, Titian's "Assumption of the Virgin," which is counted among the seven great masterpieces in the world, the pride of the Venetian Academy of Fine Arts, has been returned, not to the gallery, but to its original home in the choir of the beautiful gothic Church of the Frari, for which it was painted by Titian in 1516.

The magnificent frame of carved marble originally built round it now shows off the glorious picture to advantage and the Venetians are delighted that it should be restored to the position where its donors and the great genius who composed it intended it to remain.

Embarrassing Situation.

I have been teaching at the same place for fifteen years, have a family and up to a short time ago was considered respectable, but my most embarrassing moment also greatly lowered my standing in this town."

At recess, when all the pupils had gone to the recreation room and I sat alone at my desk, one of the young lady teachers came in and, after making me swear to keep her secret until the close of the school year, told me she had married my cousin the day before, and now that we were cousins she wanted me to kiss the bride.

She was very pretty and I needed no second invitation. But as I lifted my head after giving her a resounding smack, there stood our superintendent in the doorway, and I, sworn to secrecy, could not explain.—Exchange.

The Good Heckler.

Elihu Root said at a New York luncheon:

"I like to attend some radical meetings on account of the heckling that goes on at them. Hecklers are much cleverer than the speakers as a rule.

"A radical orator was being heckled the other evening by a broad-shouldered lad in a brown cap. The orator got the worst of it, and he lost his temper. Finally he said in a voice of rage and hatred:

"'Take off your cap, young man, if you want to question me!'

"'Take off your cap! Take off your cap!' yelled the orator's supporters on the platform.

"But the broad-shouldered youth grinned and shouted:

"'I didn't take off me cap when I went over the top.'"

Our Great Sixth
Anniversary Sale

This is the Sixth time that we have celebrated our Anniversary in Maryville and to say the least we are highly pleased to know that this has been the greatest first day sale that we have ever had.

Thousands of people have visited the store today and have bought merchandise which they will remember for a long time to come. If you were not among the crowd today be sure and come any day next. A great feast of bargains are still awaiting you.

Our object in holding this sale every year is to show our appreciation of the liberal patronage that the public has given us from day to day during the year, and in return it is our pleasure to give them bargains which are impossible to duplicate elsewhere.

We hold these every year with one cent of profit to ourselves. This year it is of more importance to the public than ever before on account of the extra high prices of all commodities and the great opportunity it affords in cutting down the High Cost of Living.

We hope to see you all in our store every day next week.

We have always borne the reputation of having the highest class merchandise to be found any place. It is impossible for manufacturer's show us merchandise in too high a quality for us to buy for our trade and then always sell it for as little as we can afford.

BUY COAL NOW.

Dealers in coal agree that there is no liklihood of lower prices for that commodity before next winter. They also agree that there is very likely to be another coal shortage next fall. With this information before him the wise householder will undertake to lay in his next winter's supply of fuel during the spring and summer months. Already some have next winter's coal in their bins, while others are arranging to buy at an early date. It ought to be possible for a large number to do so, thereby greatly relieving the situation next winter.

There is, it is true, some danger in storing large quantities of coal in closed compartments. There is danger of spontaneous combustion. Care, therefore, should be taken to prevent this. There should be plenty of air in the storage room and every possible precaution against combustion should be taken. There is, also, loss of heat units in any coal stored for any great length of time. This is particularly true of bituminous coal. Some of the anthracite and semi-anthracite do not deteriate materially. While these coals cost more, delivered at your home, it is thought their greater content of heat units makes them as cheap in the long run as what is known as "soft" coal.

It ought to be apparent, however, to every thoughtful man that he should do something now toward avoiding a coal famine next winter. If all who can would purchase at least a portion of their next winter's coal supply now two purposes would be served. First, you would be protected from a lack of fuel during the cold weather next winter, and second, the sale of large quantities of coal during the summer would keep the miners at work during the ordinary season of enforced idleness, one of the things of which they complain. At any rate, it will be wise, from every standpoint, to buy at least a portion of your next winter's fuel as soon as possible and store it in a safe place.—St. Joseph Gazette.

FRANCIS E. WILLARD'S VISION.

The Crusade ran its course in a few months, but "out of the agony and out of defeat," was born the "sober second thought," the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Frances E. Willard soon came into the work, and to her the vision of a race redeemed from the curse of strong drink became the day star of the work. Everything looked dark. They found the liquor traffic entrenched behind the law, age long custom, politics, and the cupidity of men who sold and licensed the iniquity for gain. Shutting their eyes to the obstacles in the way of the work, thousands of women, without vote or voice with which to fight the foe, opened their windows Godward and with the faith that would not be denied, with the aroused passion of motherhood in defense of its young, and the battle thickened and deepened. They found the liquor traffic so entwined with the business interests and politics of the country that they added department after department to follow it in its devious windings, until we had over forty to meet the needs of the different localities where our Unions were located.

As they grew, they were divided into Preventive, Educational, Evangelistic, Social, Legal, and Department of Organiation. Under the first was appointed Superintendent of Heredity and Hygiene. Under the second a Superintendent to get scientific Temperance instruction in the schools, in which we succeeded and which has educated a generation or two in the evils of alcohol and narcotics. Press work was made prominent, for, as one editor said, "If you want to destroy an evil, let the light of publicity upon it." In many papers we were given columns and though they were not generally read, they have proved the constant dropping that wears away the stone. One paper in Nodaway County never refused an article and gave a weekly column for years, and though he was cursed and vilified for it, we think it was one of the causes of Northwest Missouri going dry before the balance of the state.

Man's Trouble Arrested.

"The past four years I have been going down, down, down with catarrh of the stomach and had to give up work a year ago because of my weakened condition. I suffered terribly from bloating and colic attacks. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy was recommended to me. I took a course of it and am now feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Maryville Pharmacy and all druggists. —Adv.

ELECTRIC THEATRE

Two Days—MONDAY AND TUESDAY, MAY 24 and 25.

We have to offer to the people of this community, a picture which is no doubt one of the biggest super features ever shown in the city.

ALICE JOYCE

IN

The Sporting Dutchess

The Famous Drury Lane melodrama. The picture vividly portrays real racing—fine horses; the racing scenes were taken at the Fair Gounds in New Orleans.

"The Sporting Duchess has the bearing of a queen. She is dignified in adversity, abides by the decree of Fate like a real gambler and stakes all on her favorite horse. She plays fair to win or lose by the results of the Derby. Her opponents use every crooked means available to crush her spirit. It is a thrilling story with an exciting climax in the big race scene.

Matinee each day at 3 o'clock; 11c and 22c. Night 7:30 and 9:00; Prices, 17c and 28c.

We Were the First To Cut Shoe Prices

In all the price cutting of the big city stores, there has been no general reduction in the shoe prices. The reason is plain—shoes are really a staple article and there has been no reductions in the manufacturer's costs.

20 per cent of

is a big reduction and especially when you consider that the cut applies to ANY SHOE IN THE HOUSE, regardless of style or wholesale cost.

SALE CONTINUES ALL NEXT WEEK INCLUDING SATURDAY.

FRANCIS E. WILLARD'S VISION.

The Crusade ran its course in a few months, but "out of the agony, out of defeat," was born the "sober second thought," the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Frances E. Willard soon came into the work, and to her, the vision of a race redeemed from the curse of strong drink became the day star of the work. Everything looked dark. They found the liquor traffic entrenched behind the law, age long custom, politics, and the cupidity of men who sold and licensed the iniquity for gain. Shutting their eyes to the obstacles in the way of the work, thousands of women, without vote or voice with which to fight the foe, opened their windows Godward and with the faith that would not be denied, with the aroused passion of motherhood in defense of its young, and the battle thickened and deepened. They found the liquor traffic so entwined with the business interests and politics of the country that they added department after department to follow it in its devious windings, until we had over forty to meet the needs of the different localities where our Unions were located.

As they grew, they were divided into Preventive, Educational, Evangelistic, Social, Legal, and Department of Organization. Under the first was appointed Superintendent of Heredity and Hygiene. Under the second a Superintendent to get scientific Temperance instruction in the schools, in which we succeeded and which has educated a generation or two in the evils of alcohol and narcotics. Press work was made prominent, for, as one editor said, "If you want to destroy an evil, let the light of publicity upon it." In many papers we were given columns and though they were not generally read, they have proved the constant dropping that wears away the stone. One paper in Nodaway County never refused an article and gave a weekly column for years, and though he was cursed and vilified for it, we think it was one of the causes of Northwest Missouri going dry before the balance of the state.

The Sporting Dutchess

The Famous Drury Lane melodrama. The picture vividly portrays real racing—fine horses; the racing scenes were taken at the Fair Gounds in New Orleans.

"The Sporting Duchess has the bearing of a queen. She is dignified in adversity, abides by the decree of Fate like a real gambler and stakes all on her favorite horse. She plays fair to win or lose by the results of the Derby. Her opponents use every crooked means available to crush her spirit. It is a thrilling story with an exciting climax in the big race scene.

We Were the First To Cut Shoe Prices

In all the price cutting of the big city stores, there has been no general reduction in the shoe prices. The reason is plain—shoes are really a staple article and there has been no reductions in the manufacturer's costs.

20 per cent of

is a big reduction and especially when you consider that the cut applies to ANY SHOE IN THE HOUSE, regardless of style or wholesale cost.

MERELY HER 'INDIAN SUMMER'

Elderly Lady Rejects With Scorn the Idea That She Is in the Autumn of Life.

She is a little old grandmother—exactly seventy-four years old. And quite a busy little creature she is, knitting stockings for this niece, a sweater for this grandson and tatting lace for her newest great-grandchild. Her daughter with whom she lives, the other day remonstrated with her for working so hard. "You don't have to work so hard now, mother," she said. "You've worked all through your summer of life and now at autumn you surely should have a rest."

"I'm not having an actual autumn of rest and decay," the old woman indignantly protested. "My life is too beautiful and too fruitful to label it that way. It's an Indian summer. When I was younger I used to watch old people having autumns when they fretted everybody and were miserable themselves. It worried me because I knew that some day I would be old, and I didn't want to make anyone, not even myself, miserable. And one autumn I enjoyed Indian summer so much that I decided to have an Indian summer in my life. And," half indignantly, "I don't intend to have you or any other person throwing frost on it to ruin it, either."—Indianapolis News.

FOUND THAT NEATNESS PAYS

Indianapolis Youths Possibly Only Needed Good Example, Though the Pennies May Have Helped.

Somebody invented an old saw to the effect that "bad news travels fast." In the vicinity of the Weidely Motors company's plant good news did the same thing.

One day a dirty-faced urchin of the neighborhood asked Bill Umphrey of the Weidely company for a penny.

"Wash your face and hands and I'll come through," Billy told the kid.

When Mr. Umphrey emerged from his office at noon the youngster was there, his face and hands glowing like a 100-candle power lamp. He got the penny.

An hour later, when Mr. Umphrey returned, there was a lineup as long as that for the "Follies." A regiment of clean hands was outstretched for coins of the realm. The generous Billy came through again.

He started something. Now the kids have begun work on George Weidely and Truman Rapp. The result is that Irish Hill youthful countenances and hands beam like a circus billboard.—Indianapolis News.

Ibanez's Contribution to Poe Memorial

When Senor Blasco Ibanez said that the Bronx should erect a memorial to Edgar Allan Poe—and threw down $100 to show that he means business—he acted like a poet. Though Poe pried into a number of nooks and crannies of European literature, he seems never to have interested himself in Spain or Spanish. His "Oval Portrait" is located in "one of those piles of commingled gloom and grandeur" which have so long been associated with Spanish architectures, and that is about the extent of his debt to the land of our guest. But poets do not look for reasons; they are content with opportunities. Seeing that we had no adequate Poe memorial, he seized upon the chance to make a good suggestion. Possibly, also, Poe's "Four Beasts in One" prompted generous thoughts in the author of "The Four Horsemen."—New York Evening Post.

A Disturber.

It was a scrubby little room, in a scrubby little part of a scrubby little city's scrubutbs, and the London traveler didn't approve at all.

When he went to wash he found that there was no water for the basin, no soap to wash with, and no towel to dry himself with.

So he rang.

Five minutes interim bringing no answer, he rang again and then again and again, until his arm ached. At the end of 20 minutes a waiter of forbidding aspect opened the door.

"Did you ring?" he inquired in a bass, rumbling voice.

"Of course I did!" snapped the London visitor.

"Well," said the waiter as he withdrew, "don't do it again! You'll wake the missis!"—London Tit-Bits.

Lightheaded Customer.

A Jeffersonville merchant has recently placed an automatic weighing machine in front of his store. A few days ago a citizen was observed standing on the machine and closely scrutinizing the dial. His hat was in his hand, although the thermometer marked a low temperature, and a passerby asked him why he had his hat off. "I want to see what I weigh without my outdoor garments," said the citizen blandly. His interlocutor walked away, muttering: "He wouldn't weigh much less if he took his head off as well."—Indianapolis News.

Tomato Juice for Babies.

Dr. Alfred F. Hess of New York says that canned tomatoes are good for babies. Orange juice is commonly given to them, for they need something of this sort to prevent such diseases as scurvy, and Dr. Hess has found that canned tomatoes serve the same purpose. He told the State Medical society that he gives about an ounce a day to infants that have passed their first month, especially to those whose mothers are not nursing them.

VILLAGE OVERRUN BY DOGS

Housewives of Silver Lake, New York, Had to Guard Kitchens From the Hungry Animals.

The hamlet of Silver Lake, on the outskirts of White Plains, N. Y., is all "het" up because of the large number of dogs that have migrated to that section, according to the New York Evening Sun. In the daytime they forage through the town and at night they make sleep impossible by their howling.

Silver Lake has a population of about 500 persons, and it is said that there are 141 dogs, one lap poodle and half a dozen hounds by actual count.

A staid old resident says that there is every kind of a dog imaginable in Silver Lake—small ones, big ones, short ones, long ones, dogs with no tail and one eye, lean ones and fat ones, but mostly lean ones.

This great influx of dogs to Silver Lake has created many nuisances. In fact, the housewives don't dare leave their kitchen doors unlocked or half a dozen hungry mutts will be roaming around trying to find something to eat. The story is told of how one woman baked a raisin pie for supper for her husband. She left it on the kitchen table to cool while she went about her household duties. A little later she heard a great commotion, and when she went to the kitchen she found half a dozen hungry canines, big and little, fighting for the last raisin of her pie. She struck them with a broom, but that did not do any good, because they had her pie.

ENGLISH TERMS ARE ADOPTED

French Take Kindly to a Number of Expressions That They Learned During the War.

We all know what an army of French words has billeted itself permanently upon the English language. Not so many of us think of the interchange of prisoners, so to speak, between French and English, of the numerous English words naturalized in France. In sport, of course, this English contingent was to be expected. "Champion," "ring," "knockout," "coming man," "singles," "football," "touring club," "skating rink,"—long is the list of such English words in French. Even the French labor dialect has suffered some English infusions—"trade union," "lockout," "leaders." There is even the lovely verb "lockouter." "Whisky" and "pale ale" and other exported names of sin must mostly remain unmentionable here.

The war has introduced "boy scouts," hardly to be recognized in its French pronunciation, "scouts." "Tanks" and "nurses" are familiar words in contemporary French. At a theater or railroad office you are almost as likely to get a "ticket" as a "billet." "On the golf links," wrote an English collector of French Anglicisms last year, "one may hear 'J'ai droppe une balle,' instead of the clumsy 'laisse tomber,' " "Lavatory" has suffered a sea change. In Paris it means a barber shop where you can get a shampoo.

Get Busy!

Real development lies in arousing the potential worth that has been lying dormant in your character. The first step is in starting something that will challenge the whole being to activity. Many a man does not feel equal to the tasks of the day. But circumstances are such that he has to make the start. The first few strokes of the pencil may not mean much, but the fact that he starts something arouses him to keener thinking, and before long he may be doing his best work. And each idea begets another until the fellow is aroused to full capacity. Yes, and there are occasions when the very stress of necessity makes a man rise to the superman that lies within each of God's creatures waiting the challenge worthy of it.—Grit.

This Old Earth.

In a recent lecture Sir Oliver Lodge, the eminent English scientist who is now visiting America, announced that the earth would probably continue to exist for 20,000,000 years more. These are, of course, round numbers. Some scientists estimate that the earth will live for ten times this age. There have been animals of one kind and another on this planet for fully this length of time. The dinosaurs are believed to have lived through some such period. The age of man, which is probably only a few thousand years, seems the merest trifle by comparison. When we consider how man has developed during recorded history, which is less than ten thousand years, we may hope that he will evolve to an infinitely finer type in the future.—Boys' Life.

Keeping Warm With Games.

Games were never so popular as now in country houses, and the reason is not far to seek. Living rooms are not heated as they were in the good old times, and guests, young and old, vote for games because they are warming. There isn't a better game of ball than "fives," known in the days of Queen Elizabeth and declared by her to be "the best sport she had ever seen."—The Gentlewoman.

Coal in Mexico.

The only state in Mexico producing coal is Coahuila. Normal production is about 900,000 tons a year, but at present only about half that quantity is obtained and none is exported. The shortage is supplied from the United States. Coal is not needed for heating purposes and charcoal is used for cooking.

"THE SPORTING DUCHESS" SHOWS FAMOUS DERBY RACES.

Once each year sportsmen from all over the world gather at Epsom, in Surrey, England, generally on the Wednesday before Whitesuntide to attend the Derby races. They are famed in song and story. Many plays have been written around these races the most famous of which is "The Sporting Duchess," which will be shown at the Electric Theater next Monday and Tuesday.

This play was written by August Harris, Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton as a mammoth spectacular drama to be produced at the Drury Lane theater in London. It created such a sensation there that the following season it was brought to New York where it had a phenomneal run.

The picturization of the story is even greater than the play. It gets the atmosphere of England and the great races founded by the 12th Earl of Derby in 1780. They get their name from the founder. American horses are frequently entered in these races.

The jockey riding the winner of the Derby is bedecked with a floral horse shoe and borne from the track the hero of the hour.

Alice Joyce is seen as Muriel, duchess of Desborough, the owner of Chipstone. This horse is entered in the Derby and upon it the duchess stakes her honor, wealth and happiness.

DEFECTIE MAIL SERVICE NOT ALL UP TO P. O.

Urbana, Ohio, May 22. — Defective mail service alone is not responsible for the failure of many persons to receive their mail.

There are other reasons.

Here are some of them:

One postcard bore a message to "Dear Ruth" from "Mother," but the card was not addressed.

Another card to "Dear Niece" was from "Aunt Jen." It, too, bore no address.

A third card although addressed to "Miss ————," bore no sign of an address besides the name of the Miss.

The name and street address of the person to whom it was written was found on another postcard, but the name of the town, or city, was missing.

All of which goes to show that carelessness causes many postcards and letters to remain forever undelivered.

About 120 different species of asters are native in the United States and fifty-four of these are found in northeastern America. All but a dozen are purple or blue and even botanists find it requires patient study to distinguish their many species.

About one-fourth of the United States, or 550,000,000 acres, is in forests. Forests publicly owned contain about one-fifth of all the timber standing. The remaining four-fifths is privately owned.

The department of agriculture estimates that horses on United States farms increased from 19,833,000 in 1910 to 21,109,000 Jan. 1, 1920. Mules increased, too, according to the estimates.
